NSF Surefish is the Best Choice for Seafood Safety and Quality Inspections

As the only non-government seafood specialist in North America, NSF Surefish provides independent, third-party seafood product inspections and facility auditing services. We test, assess compliance with seafood safety, sanitation and GMP requirements, and inspect and assess product quality attributes against recognized inspection methodology. We can also help you by assessing your existing food safety and quality assurance programs and procedures, or can develop those programs for you. Additionally, NSF Surefish will perform supplier audits or customize the scope of the audit to meet your company's needs.

Q: What makes NSF Surefish different?

A: Seafood is our only business. As a result of this chosen specialization we have built an unsurpassed reputation for expertise and service in the seafood industry over our 20 year history. The NSF Surefish Seafood Safety and Quality programs service seafood producers, buyers, sellers, importers, retailers, restaurants, and distributors throughout the world. While many labs simply give you test results, we can provide you with all of the key information you need to drive improvement and/or make informed decisions. Whether your needs involve insuring product quality, safety, compliance with regulation or buyer specifications, or more, we can provide the information, help you interpret the results, and assist you in determining causes and solutions.

Q: Why Utilize NSF Surefish's Third Party Seafood Services?

A: Simple, you cannot afford not to! The growing demand by consumers that their seafood is handled with strong food safety and quality control systems in place that also address environmentally and socially responsible practices mean that retailers and processors alike face tremendous challenges. These challenges include sourcing and supplying products that meet these growing demands in an efficient fashion and at the same time protects suppliers from costly recalls, quality claims or litigation. That is why more and more companies turn to NSF Surefish for third party verification and assistance for traceability, recall, inspection, auditing, testing, and more.
